

Free Skin Cancer Screening

Through the SPOT Skin Cancer initiative, the American Academy of Dermatology and Mills Health Center are teaming up to raise awareness of skin cancer. When caught early, skin cancer has a 98% cure rate.

Dermatologists volunteer their time and expertise to provide SPOT me[®] skin cancer screenings as a free service through the American Academy of Dermatology.

SPOT me[®] skin cancer screenings are made possible by American Academy of Dermatology members; board-certified dermatologists committed to detecting skin cancer in its earliest, most treatable stage and reducing incidence of the disease by raising awareness of effective skin cancer prevention techniques.

Come for a free, 10-minute skin cancer screening overseen by a board-certified dermatologist.
